IBA Dispute Resolution Forum

IBA Dispute Resolution Forum

The Institute of Business Administration (IBA) – Karachi through its Centre for Executive Education (CEE) has launched the IBA Dispute Resolution Forum to promote mediation as an appropriate means of resolving disputes, especially in the civil/commercial space. The IBA Dispute Resolution Forum will seek to implement non-Court based practices of dispute resolution and negotiation, by working on real world disputes, improving conflict intervention methods, providing education and training, writing and disseminating conflict resolution techniques and practices.

Mediation: Need Of The Hour

Mediation is an empowering and effective means of alternative dispute resolution (ADR) which can be used in many cases as an alternate to litigation.

In mediation, the disputing parties work with a neutral third party, the mediator, who facilitates the resolution of the parties' disputes. The mediator does not decide the case, or provide any judgments but simply supervises the exchange of information and the bargaining process between the parties to help them find common ground. The objective is to resolve the dispute quickly and enable parties to move forward in a positive manner.

Services offered by IBA Dispute Resolution Forum

The IBA Dispute Resolution Forum provides a platform for expert mediators to provide mediation services to any person(s) seeking the resolution of disputes, whether they are pending in Court or otherwise. Simultaneously, the IBA will be engaging with various stakeholders in Pakistan to proliferate mediation and the use of mediation services.

- Mediation, conciliation and arbitration services for resolving commercial disputes

- R&D through industry–academia linkages
- Mediation, conciliation and arbitration training
- Thought leadership for the development of alternative dispute resolution
- International collaborations and industry forum membership

The IBA Dispute Resolution Forum is spearheaded by the ADR Team at IBA. The ADR Team includes, industry and domain area experts and comprises the following individuals:
